DRIVE SOBER OR GET PULLED OVER CAMPAIGN 2016

The National Highway Traffic Safety Association (NHTSA) statistics indicate that during the Labor Day holidays from 2010 to 2014, over 750 people died in drunk driving crashes, and this number does not include victims of drunk drivers such as pedestrians, bystanders, etc. Below is a chart from the National Transportation Safety Board that demonstrates death rates from incidents in other transportation methods and the high mortality rate due to impaired driving.

9,878 in impaired driving crashes

800 in marine accidents

759 in rail accidents

494 in aviation accidents

The campaign "Drive Sober or Get Pulled Over" is a partnership with law enforcement organizations, governors, state, local highway officials and the public, to educate individuals about the deadly hazards against drinking and driving, the legal consequences behind it, and what actions can be taken to prevent more victims of the irresponsible act of drunk driving.
