

MCLB ALBANY SAFETYGRAM

National Electrical Safety Month

Every one of these photos illustrate an electrical hazard.

This receptacle was mounted inside a soap bottle. It was used by a homeowner as an extension cord so he could save batteries while watching a portable television...while floating around in a pool

Can you identify the hazard in each of these cases? Have you seen similar situations in your home or work place?

Are you tempted to use something similar?

Risk Management 639-5249
Prepared by: W. Young

May 15

